

COUNTLESS NEWS

COUNTLESS, Sept. 26.—Norman Gamble is leaving next week for Three Hills, Alberta, where he will attend a little school for the winter. We have three fox farms now, in the vicinity of Countess. Numerous visitors call, usually on Saturdays, and take a peep at the shy little animals, which have just begun to put on their new winter coats. Some of them are quite beautiful already.

It has been reported that Mrs. A. M. Anderson will visit at Countess soon. She is on her way from Toronto, where she has been living with relatives for the past year.

G. Goudie has been quite ill at his home. Jean Gamble, accompanied by Iris Robinson, of Grap, spent the weekend at the Gamble home.

The farmers have been busy the past week getting in their crops. O. Swanson reports he found one which weighed three pounds.

Darrel Gamble is planning a motor cycle trip to Los Angeles after the freeze-up.

The ladies of the C.C. Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. Parrott, where they spent a most enjoyable afternoon.

Mrs. H. Cowan is enjoying a visit from her cousin from the east.

Matlock purchased a new old car, formerly used for a freight sled, and is moving it to his farm for a bunk house.

Dr. Dotson is over from Arrowwood this week looking after his sheep.

Emma Fitzgibbon, of Medicine Hat, is assisting Miss Walsh with her work for the winter.

Numerous duck hunters have been seen in the district the past week.

Mrs. H. Ferguson canned a hundred quarts of tomatoes out of her garden patch this summer.

IRRIGATION PROPOSAL TO BE DISCUSSED

In order that all concerned may be better acquainted with the matters that have been discussed regarding the Contract Holders' Committee and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in regard to bringing about a solvent condition amongst the farmers on the Eastern Section, Irrigation Project, the Contract Holders' Committee of the U.S.A. District Association and the officers of the association, with the consent of the publishers have arranged to use the columns of the local newspapers to place before all those involved a full resume of the requests and proposals to date.

It is hoped that in each of the succeeding issues a series of reports and discussions will be presented, which will enable every one interested to intelligently act upon any measure brought before the public before it is too late to do so.

Over a period of four years, representatives have been made to the Company's executive officers in an attempt to impress upon the said officers the fact that with very few exceptions the farmers on the project were surety.

The Anglican Ladies are planning on putting on a tea and sale of work on Saturday, November 3rd.

becoming hopelessly involved—both in regard to their contract standing and in every financial matter. Due entirely to the fact that net returns do not cover total obligations.

PETE MACLEAN FREED ON THEFT CHARGE

Pete MacLean, local boy who was sent up for trial early this summer on a horse stealing count, was released when stay of proceedings was entered in his case.

Pete was arrested last May, and accused of stealing one brown mare and colt from the Trenton Estate. He pleaded "not guilty" and Police Magistrate committed the case for trial at the fall session of the Supreme Court held in Calgary in September.

On Monday, Sept. 24, MacLean appeared before Mr. Justice Trevelyan in Calgary, and was immediately freed, and the bondsmen released.

Wm. McLaws, of Bassano, acted for Pete, both at the preliminary hearing and at Calgary.

Registration of Electors Now Under Way

According to Proclamation published by the Commissioner of Pranchise the registration of electors under the Dominion Franchise Act will commence all over the Dominion on the 15th of October and the preliminary lists will be completed by October 23. Under the new system the enumerators will make up the preliminary lists, which will be posted up in their offices for examination by voters. On the 13th, 14th and 15th of November, at least, all those concerned may appear before the enumerator for the purpose of having corrections, alterations and additions to the lists. On this expiration of the last date, the lists will be closed, and any decision of the enumerator will be subject to an appeal to a Judge.

Should a Dominion election be called before May 16, 1935, those lists will be the official voters' lists, and only those whose names are listed will be entitled to vote. This will enable the old procedure of having new lists prepared immediately an election is called. It is the business of citizens and the concern of party adherents to see that all proper names are on the lists.

Bassano is in the Medicine Hat constituency, presided by Dr. P. W. Gershaw, of Medicine Hat. There are 126 polling divisions in the riding, all of them being classified as rural except fourteen in the City of Medicine Hat.

Former World's Champion Buried on Sunday Last at Bassano After an Eventful Career in the West

The funeral of Emory LeGrandeur, one of the most famous stampede contestants ever produced by Western Canada, was held last Sunday at Bassano. He passed away on Tuesday, Sept. 18th in the Bassano Hospital after a brief illness. He had been a respected resident of Bassano for some years and was postmaster there. On Tuesday, Sept. 12 he suffered a paralytic stroke, in which condition his wife found him that morning, and from the effects of which he never recovered.

Emory LeGrandeur's main claim to fame was his winning of the world's championship for bronk riding in the New York Stampede held in 1914. For seven years he was ranked as the top bronk rider of the world. He won events at Winnipeg, Medicine Hat, New York, Saskatoon, Calgary and other points. Not only was he a wonderful bronk rider, but also an all-round cowboy.

Emory LeGrandeur was born in 1881, deceased came to Alberta on an early age with his parents and was brought up in the Pincher Creek country. A well known, successful ranching district in this province. Reaching maturity, he gained the reputation of being a skilled ranchman and man of several big outfits as well as ranching on his own accounts. He spent some time in the Maple Creek district, where he met and married his bride, the niece of a prominent ranch owner there.

Judge at Calgary Stampede

The late Emory LeGrandeur has been up and down the ranch trails of the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan for many years. He knew all the prominent ranch men and ranch workers and was respected on every side. He was a friend of the late Charlie Russell, cowboy artist, "Hoot" Gibson, and many other famous cowboys. For many years he was a judge at the Calgary Stampede, the largest show of its kind in the world. Surviving members of the family include the widow, one son Gordon, of Rocky Mountain House, and three daughters, Nettie, attending school in Calgary, and Margaret and Dorothy, at home, also his mother, one sister, Mrs. Criddle, and two brothers, Edward and Pete, all of Pincher Creek, and Albert, of Rocky Mountain House. The funeral was held under Masonic auspices at Bassano last Sunday. Rev. H. E. Gordon, of Langdon, officiated, and Hunsar Masonic Lodge attended in a body. His wife was a devoted brother. Many friends from far and near were at the funeral to bid a long farewell to one that had lived an eventful life.

A FURTHER STEP on the Road to Recovery

A Statement by the Prime Minister of Canada

THE Dominion of Canada will offer for public subscription within the next few days the 1934 Refunding Loan. It is an undertaking of such significance to every citizen that I think it fitting to present this brief explanation of its close relation to the welfare and continued progress of our country.

The 1934 Loan is not an incidental effort. It is a part—and an essential part—of the great debt conversion programme in which Canada has been engaged since 1931, and by which we are refunding our large war debt, and borrowing for wartime purposes. The national importance of this programme—and of the 1934 Loan as part of it—cannot be over emphasized. It is important from three aspects: 1—National Credit; 2—National Economy; 3—National Recovery.

1. National Credit
National credit means to a nation what an honest reputation means to a man. Its maintenance is a primary essential and necessary that each obligation be met, fully and promptly, as it comes due. Our debt conversion programme is first, in the first instance, our method of meeting our obligations and thus maintaining our credit. By this programme Canada has already refunded $258,000,000 of maturing wartime debt, and completion of the 1934 Loan will bring the refunded total to over one billion dollars. As a result, Canada's credit stands unduly high, both at home and in the great money markets of the world.

Striking evidence of our high credit standing was given within the last few months when Canada secured immediate over-subscription of a long-term loan in London at a price to yield the investor less than 3½% and, in New York, obtained a one-year loan of $50,000,000 bearing interest at 2 per cent.

2. National Economy
The debt conversion programme, in the second place, is providing substantial savings in public interest charges. The debt which we are refunding was incurred with interest rates at artificially high wartime prices. Refunding is now being accomplished with interest rates throughout the world moving steadily downward toward more normal levels, on encouragingly low rates. This saving has been secured by refunding under these conditions Canada has already obtained a reduction in the previous interest charges amounting to more than $9,000,000 per annum, and completion of the 1934 Loan will provide a further saving of over $5,000,000 per annum. The annual saving of over $14,000,000 thus secured has a direct cash benefit to every taxpayer. This saving has been secured to meet the extraordinary burden of unemployment relief. It has, to a considerable extent, offset the heavy burdens which the depression period has imposed with respect to railway and other current requirements. It will also pave the way to tax reductions with the return to better times.

3. National Recovery

The debt conversion which Canada has achieved since 1931, by thus maintaining national credit and securing national economy, has been a major factor in our progress toward economic recovery.

A year ago, preliminary to the 1933 Refunding Loan, I took occasion to express the belief that Canada had passed the low point of depression and was definitely upon the road to recovery. Today, our progress toward recovery is a matter of established fact. Since the low point of February 1933, the trend of business has been moving steadily upward in an improvement so marked and so consistently sustained that we need no longer doubt its reality.

The facts of business recovery are written beyond dispute in our statistical records. The most significant indices relate to physical volume of business, industrial production, carloadings, electric power production, employment and prices. Here is the record in each case:

	PERCENTAGE INCREASE Since Low Point of Depression February 1933
Output	13.8%
Industrial Production	12.7%
Carloadings	19.3%
Electric Power Production	12.4%
Employment	14.7%
Wholesale Prices	4.0%
Retail Prices	7.7%

In the case of carloadings, employment and prices, the latest figures available are those for August; in other cases, those for July.

Our external trade figures are equally encouraging. During the first eight months of the present year, exports of Canadian products increased approximately $99,000,000, or 27.7% over the same period last year. The corresponding increase for imports has been slightly under $93,000,000, or 28.2%.

A Further Step

Anyone who reflects upon these three aspects of credit, economy and recovery will at once appreciate that the debt conversion programme is vitally important to every Canadian and that, consequently, the success of the 1934 Loan in the personal concerns of every man and woman in the Dominion.

The 1934 Loan is a further step in a great national undertaking; its success means a further step on the road to recovery. I know that I need not stress the attractiveness of the Loan as the soundest possible investment, for that will be one of the first things that I do, however, earnestly call upon my fellow Canadians to support this Loan to the limit of their abilities as an opportunity to promote national welfare. A knowledge of the way in which the individual citizen can render greater service to himself and to his country.

CHANCE FOR BEEF CATTLE

'Right now beef cattle are very low in price. In fact reports from Winnipeg during the late summer told of cattle being given away. Feed is scarce in many parts of the west. To buy expensive hay to put into low-priced cattle does not look like good business.

Cattle will come back in price, however. And the far-sighted people who have built up a good herd will then reap the benefit.

Hogs came back in price after a year of the lowest values this country has ever known. Farmers got sick and tired of feeding pigs only to have to give them away when ready for market.

John Burns, the Calgary packer, is one who believes firmly that cattle prices are on their way back to an economic level. It will mean a great deal to Alberta if his opinion turns out to be right.

TIE WITH OLD WEST SEVERED

One of the ties with the "old west" was severed when Emery LeGrandeur, of Hussar, passed away. In his heyday he was one of the real old rugged type of range riders who participated in stampede events for the fun of it. Today only too many of the contestants get their training in stampedes and not on the ranges.

Emery LeGrandeur won the world's championship in riding bucking horses at a stampede held in New York, when these events were just springing into popularity. Now "stampedes" are commonplace.

Only too many of the oldtime cowboys have drifted across the line into the "mysterious horse." The days of the open range are pretty well gone and the stout youths who rode so skilfully and strenuously are departing, too.

The death of Emery LeGrandeur severs a tie with the romantic and happy days of pioneer Alberta.

A DREADFUL TOLL

Just so long as people are pedestrians they are usually considerate and polite to others. But put an individual in a motor car and some mysterious change takes place.

With face set and frowning and hands rigidly clutching the steering wheel the car driver more often than not tears up and down the roads without the slightest consideration of others. Too fast a pace, hugging the crown of the road, glaring lights on drivers from the opposite direction—these are a few of the discourteous actions which are quite commonplace.

No one would dream of being so boorish while walking along a sidewalk; it is only in the seat of a car that all consideration for the other fellow leaves.

The result is hundreds of thousands of accidents and about forty-thousand people killed in North America yearly. What a dreadful toll to the egoism of mankind!

For it is only egoism that makes an individual tear down a thoroughfare at a break-neck speed, regardless of the danger to others.

MONEY WILL BE SHORTER

Canadian paper money will be smaller in size before very long. The Bank of Canada bills will be six inches long and two and seven-eighths inches wide. The commercial banks will fall in line and issue smaller bills, too.

So the new Canadian bills will be about the same size of the United States paper money. It will be neater and handier. But it will be just as hard to get and keep.

It won't be long now before Bank of Canada bills are circulating throughout Canada. With ten years seventy-five per cent of Canadian money will be the issue of this bank. By that time the commercial banks' money issues will be down to twenty-five per cent.

It would be quite nice if the new bank money was scattered around a little more freely. Money has been a very valuable thing this last five years. The trend of many governments now seems to take a portion of the value out of money and restore it to other things which have been selling too cheaply.

Now that the Bank of Canada bills are to be smaller they should be made more plentifully.

RISE IN HORSE PRICES?

A sharp rise in horse prices is looked for by Professor E. C. Hope, of the University of Saskatchewan. He thinks this will develop just as soon as farmers get a little better off financially.

The more extensive use of tractors had not such a great bearing on the decline in the price of horses as people think, the professor avers. The tractors, of course, restricted the number of horses required, but prices for these animals go in cycles much the same as prices of other livestock.

The last period of relatively high prices for horses was from 1910 to 1915. The recent period of low prices was longer than usual because the country was becoming adjusted to permanently smaller number of horses.

Good work horses are again becoming scarce and it will be some years before breeders can keep up with the demand. The return of tractors to more general use for field work will not change this situation.

Immediately a little more money flows into the hands of farmers a sharp rise may be expected in the price of horses. If the general commodity price level should continue to rise, horse prices will rise faster.

made in 1931, and which reported that the situation called for immediate readjustment, the company's executive officers could not be persuaded to recommend to the supreme command of the company such radical changes of policy, which is now freely admitted as being "urgently needed."

In April, 1932, a delegation from the Association presented a proposal, evolved from the various resolutions offered up to that time, asking for a permanent reduction of charges levied upon the land, and a temporary arrangement for one year, upon a basket basis. This request could not be accepted by the company, and the delegation was advised by the company's officers to concentrate on a more equitable basis of land tenure, and to convene with the Contract Holders in local and district meetings to the extent that some definite plan, embodying a sharing of responsibility for the successful administration of the project would be submitted to the company in August of this year.

A large delegation representing every corner of the project was again refused a request that the company reduce the charges levied upon the land, reclassify the irrigable acreage, and change to a basket basis of payment.

During the period between April 1933 and August 1934 a number of resolutions and suggestions, and a large amount of statistics and pre-

IN LOVING MEMORY

MACLEAN
In ever loving remembrance of our dear daughter, (Katie) Catherine F. MacLean, who passed away September 27th, 1930.

Time speeds on, four years have passed.

Since death its gloom, its shadows cast
Within our home, where all seemed bright.

And took from us a shining light.
We miss that light and ever will.

Her vacant place can never be filled.
Down here we mourn, but not in vain.

For up in Heaven we will meet again.

Ever remembered by her loving
Father, Mother, Brothers and Sisters
